

SENATOR BORAH READS PRESIDENTIAL TAFT OUT OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Idaho Senator Denounces Reciprocity Agreement and Attacks Taft.

FEARS INVASION OF U.S. MARKET

Declares Agreement Brutal Betrayal of Republican Principles.

Washington, June 28.—This was a day of bitter arraignment of the Canadian reciprocity bill in the Senate, beginning with Senator Cummins' attack on the measure as legislation unjust to the agricultural interests of the country and continuing with Senator Borah's denunciation of the bill as opposed to the farming interests, the debate was of an antagonistic and acrimonious character.

The Senate was not divided on the reciprocity bill, but the debate was of an antagonistic and acrimonious character. The Senate was not divided on the reciprocity bill, but the debate was of an antagonistic and acrimonious character.

Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, finally proposed that no more attention be given to the subject, the measure laid to rest once and for all.

Senator Borah's Sensational Speech is The Talk of the Capital Today.

Washington, June 28.—Senator Borah's speech, reading President Taft out of the Republican party because the Canadian reciprocity bill is the talk of the capital today. Senator Borah is an influential Republican from Idaho. He has been prominently mentioned for President Taft's running mate as vice-president in the next presidential election. That he should have been denounced in this manner in the Senate yesterday after noon that a man who was once a Republican, because he had gone contrary to the principle of tariff protection upheld by the Republican vote of Alexander Hamilton, is regarded as nothing short of sensational. Senator Borah quoted Maine and all of the other authorities of the Republican party. He quoted platform, platform holders and platform breakers in support of his contention.

Canadian Northern is Pushing Construction

Company is Bending Every Effort to Complete Its Lines in Alberta—Work on New Direct Line from Strathcona to Calgary to be Commenced.

Winipeg, June 28.—The Canadian Northern railway, realizing the extent of the developments that are taking place in the west, is pushing the province of Alberta, is making every effort to prepare to secure a route for the traffic.

Between Strathcona and Calgary, operations are being pushed along with the greatest energy. Completion of the section and of this branch would give the company connection between the cities of the northern part of the province, strathcona and Edmonton, and the cities of the southern portion.

In order to secure an early time a shorter road between Strathcona and Calgary, the company has at the present time a large force at work building the cut-off from Camrose into Strathcona. The construction department anticipates that this line will be finished, all the steel laid, before the end of the month of September.

It is also announced that work on the new direct line from Strathcona to Calgary will be started in the near future. The line will be built through the town of Strathcona, and will be a direct line from Strathcona to Calgary.

Track Laying Machines. The Canadian Northern has also taken the step of assembling the latest type of track laying machine at Port MacKenzie. This big piece of machinery will be used to lay the track at a rate of one hundred miles this year. Equipment is constantly being forwarded to the construction department. The latest steam shovel was set up on the work, and two engines and a number of flat cars arrived at New Westminster. On the western end.

It is no longer projected. "I know that the day has come for the farmer," said Senator Cummins. The day in which he is to be excluded from the benefits of the protective tariff. The decree has been passed, it is said, and the signature for the time to begin to exclude him from the company of manufacturers of the United States.

Senator Borah's criticism was based on the record of the reciprocity party as the advocate of protection for the farmer. He quoted at length from the reciprocity agreement, and showed that the abolition of protection on farm products was a reversal of all Republican policy. Senator Borah said both political parties were now striving to secure the vote of the cities and the provinces. "Instead of making the reciprocity party, you should say the Democratic party and the administration," interrupted Senator Cummins.

Attacks the President. "I am not willing to concede that President Taft, in the crusade in which he is now engaged for free trade in agricultural products, represents the Republican party of the country. He does not represent the majority of the Republican members of the House or Senate, and I believe he does not represent the majority of the Republican members of the country."

"The administration now in control," said Senator Cummins, "is a party that is not in favor of the farmer. The time has come when the farmer was not disputed within this chamber, that such a party should be destructive of his property. This is the policy of the administration."

SEAMEN'S STRIKE IS PROVING EFFECTIVE

Measures Adopted by Men to Secure Increased Wages is Succeeding at Many Points—Shipping at Liverpool Up.

Liverpool, June 28.—The strike has had a serious effect on the distribution of goods, including the foodstuffs. The quays are littered with bacon, cheese, lard and butter, which the dockmen, prevent the raters handling. Merchants are much perturbed.

Another Phenomenal Increase in Edmonton's Bank Clearings For Week Ending Today.

Bank clearings in Edmonton for the week ending today totaled $2,101,241, as compared with a total of $1,155,548 for the corresponding week of 1910. The net increase for the week was thus nearly a million dollars, or a 78 per cent. increase. This increase is one of 81 per cent, and is made despite the fact that Thursday of last week, Corporation day, was a bank holiday. The percentage increase the week before was nearly 183 per cent. Week in and week out for nearly a year now, Edmonton has led all the cities of Canada in percentage increase of bank clearings, the average increase of bank clearings has been no mean distinction for Edmonton to lead every other city of Canada in this respect for almost a year. But the most satisfactory phase of the situation is that the clearances are increasing in even greater proportion month by month and show no signs of diminution. Not only did Edmonton lead in percentage increase of bank clearings, but the proportion of increase is more than twice as great as that shown on the average by any other city of the Dominion.

ROBBERS HELD UP OREGON EXPRESS

Expected to Get $100,000 in Gold Dust, But Were Mistaken.

Glendale, Ore., June 28.—Apparently mistaking the first section of the northbound passenger train (No. 16) on the Southern Pacific, for the southbound train, it was carrying a shipment of $100,000 in gold dust from Seattle to San Francisco, two men boarded the train at West Fork while the engine was stopped at the station.

Soon after it had got under way they crawled over the tender into the cab and directed the engineer to stop the train. This done, one kept the engine while the other went back to the side of the car finally detected and secured with the aid of a shot from the mail car. The amount taken could not be ascertained at this time.

This train carries in its registered mail cars a large quantity of gold dust. The robbers thought they would use dynamite to break the mail cars open. The robbers boarded the train at West Fork while the engine was stopped at the station.

ROBBERS CLEAN SHACK OF ALL ITS CONTENTS

Engineer Furnishes shack on scene of his Work and Enters to Take Possession, But Finds That Contents Have Vanished During the Night.

Entering the shack which he had previously built and furnished on the site of the work which would occupy him during the greater part of the summer, W. L. Williams, an engineer in the city engineer's department, found on Tuesday that his tools, clothes and practically all his furniture had been stolen on the previous night.

Mr. Williams is employed on the sewer extension to be undertaken by his department during the present summer in the district north of the city. Concluding that it would be a convenient arrangement to live near the scene of his work, he erected a shack on a lot which he had previously purchased in the neighborhood. He purchased and installed all the necessary paraphernalia for a self-contained habitation. Establishment, gave notice to his landlady and shipped his trunk to the shack. On Monday night all his arrangements were complete.

On Tuesday, when he entered to take possession, he found the door unlocked, and the contents of the shack almost as bare as the cupboard which Mother Hubbard made for the little girl. A search for a bone, trunk, clothes, bedstead, the independent stove and even the washstand and the contents of the shack had disappeared.

Whether the robbery had been accomplished by some fellow who wished to set up a similar establishment in the neighborhood, or by an ordinary thief who merely desired to get what he could for resale, the matter was not known. Indications pointed to a wagon as the means by which the contents of the shack were conveyed to some other place.

No trace has yet been found of the robber, or robbers. There are few houses in the neighborhood, and the shack might have been broken into and the contents removed without attracting attention. The matter is in the hands of the police.

When the decision was made on August 21st, 1936, through the judicial defect in his hand, he was caught in a machine which was used for counting and recording the results of the election. He was held for a week by the machine, and the results of the election were not known until the machine was fixed. The decision of his Honor Justice Leves was that the machine was not to be used in the election, and the results of the election were to be determined by the judges.

BORDEN'S ATTACK ON RECIPROCITY FAILED TO FIND MUCH RESPONSE

Audience of Between Three and Four Thousand People at Thistle Rink Listened Attentively to Leader of Opposition, but there was Little Response to Wail of Big Interests to which He Gave Utterance—Civic Address was Presented by Mayor Armstrong on Windsor Hotel Balcony.

Frankly, Wailing "the old flag," and pleading for "reciprocity within the Empire," R. L. Borden, speaker at his audience at Thistle Rink.

Three thousand people assembled in the Thistle Rink last night to hear the address of R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House of Commons on the political questions of the day. The auditorium was fully decorated with flags and streamers. Patriotic music was given by the Citizens band during the early part of the evening, and patriotism was further proclaimed by letters and notes stretched above the platform bearing the words "We Must Remain Within the Empire," and "God Save the King."

William Chese, president of the Edmonton Conservative Association, was chairman of the meeting and with him on the platform were prominent Conservatives of the city and district. The audience did honor to the leader of the Opposition by cheering him heartily when he entered to speak. All the speakers were given a quiet, receptive mood, and there were scarcely any interruptions. Dr. Roche, M.P., Marquette, was the first speaker. He was followed by Mr. Borden, J. Macdonald, Borden, former member for Bonaventure, and Andrew Ross, M.P., speaker in the order named.

Mr. Borden's speech.
Having expressed his appreciation of the reception tendered to him as leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House, Mr. Borden revealed the occasion of his first visit to Edmonton, declaring that the growth and development of the city could not be better illustrated than by the fact that on that occasion there were fewer than 100 people in the whole city than there were in attendance at the meeting which he was addressing.

Public lands was the first question dealt with. "When I first came to the West," he said, "I had had no brief experience in public life, but I felt he was right when he said at that time that the rights of self-government should be given in full to the North-west Territories. He had never had occasion to change his mind. He had renewed this claim several times, and "I renew it again tonight," he exclaimed. "And the time is not distant when the lands, minerals, timber, and public domains will be restored to the people of the western provinces, not by the federal government, but by the federal government, not now in power, but by the federal government."

Determined Foe of Reciprocity

ROBERT LAIRD BORDEN—Now Touring the West on Behalf of the Big Interests and in Opposition to Reciprocity.

conservative administration."

The Hudson Bay Railroad.
Referring to the Hudson Bay railroad, he said that Sir Charles Finner committed his party to the building of this road in 1896. The Liberal-Conservative party was, however, at that time defeated, and ever since that time the men who held the reins of power had been humbugging the people.

The Liberal party had done nothing and could be relied upon to do nothing.

"The Liberal-Conservative party," he said, "is pleased to construct it and will construct it. And I believe we can construct it in one quarter of the time in which those men have been trilling with it. I say also that when it is constructed the country will be returned to the state, which will operate that road for the benefit of the people through an independent commission."

Terminal Elevators.
On the subject of terminal elevators and the steps taken to deal with the fraudulent manipulation and mixing of grain, he declared that none of the remedies tried had been effective. He believed that the time had come when, not only in the interest of the western producer, but in the interest of Canada as a whole, the state should undertake the control of terminal elevators.

Of the shipment industry, which he declared to be of greater importance to Alberta than to any other part of the country, he said, "We propose that each state should undertake the control of the shipment industry by the creation of a shipment and relieving agent, at $75,000, but the farmers will have little money to pay for a great export trade and to build up."

Railway Control by Public.
"There must be control of railways in the interest of the people," declared Mr. Borden. "The present control of the railway commission has been intended to gain and 'hold' safety upon the initiative of the Liberal-Conservative party, but this has now come when it should be constituted in two separate divisions, one to have jurisdiction over the great lines."

Discussing the Tariff.

The remainder of Mr. Borden's speech was devoted to a discussion of the tariff. "We propose," he said, "that the tariff of this country should give an opportunity to the people of Canada to develop the resources of this country. I do not believe it is a good policy for the people of this country to send their natural resources abroad, to send their people abroad to obtain employment abroad which they should be able to obtain at home; and they should their money abroad to obtain commodities which might just as well have been made at home out of your own natural resources. There should be established a permanent tariff committee of able and independent and representative men whose duty it would be to ascertain the facts with regard to all industries so that common sense principles might be applied. To this, of course, he said, his party was pledged.

Oppose Reciprocity.

Of the reciprocity agreement, Mr. Borden said: "Seriously, I say, whether on the economic side or on the national side, there has been no argument in support of this agreement that is at all worthy of the name of argument." The fact that it has the people of Canada in favor of a measure of reciprocity was an argument for the fact. Canada had forgotten the lesson of 1860. Under the National policy she had become a free market in the Empire.

She had found herself and caught to proceed along the lines which she began to proceed on the last of July 1860.

U.S. a Protective Country.

The question had not been before Canada since the decision of 1891. No man in Canada under forty years of age had ever been permitted to see a lion the night of the United States, he said, was a protective country, over-riden by force and compulsion. How, therefore, could it be expected that Canada could stand against the influence of the truth and combine by interlocking to the south. He thought that the United States should deal with its tariff as it should deal with the interests of its people and that Canada, while preserving its right to tariff its own goods, should keep its tariff absolutely independent. The effect of the treaty, he declared, would be that the time between the United States and west would run north and south.

Co-operating With Mother Country.
Canada had a right to respect her right to free cooperation in trade by the confederation of President. The relationship was threatened by the fact.

"Reciprocity within the Empire," declared Mr. Borden in closing, "is good enough for the Liberal-Conservative party and I believe it is good enough for the people as well."

Dr. Roche's speech.
Dr. W. J. Roche, Marquette, Man., who was the first speaker of the evening, dealt almost wholly with the reciprocity question, attacking it sharply from the economic standpoint. He would take issue with those who believed that reciprocity had been a live topic in Canada previous to the visit of Mr. Borden. He said that it was a free trader by conviction, the protective policy launched in 1878 by the Conservative party had remained the policy of the country up to the present. As late as 1897 at the Imperial conference Sir Wilfrid had declared that Canada would benefit more and more to English channels for her trade and on the occasion of bringing down to the House the bill for the construction of the G.T.P. he had declared that the road was designed to keep the trade of Canada in safe and quiet times.

J. H. G. Bergeron, who followed Mr. Borden, dealt at some length with the theory of reciprocity and of the reciprocity pact. The States had at one time tried to starve Canada into submission and Laurier had, eventually, promised that "We would make no more concessions to Washington." As a result of the firm policy on the part of Canada, a larger number of American industries which had been walled out at the frontier for Laurier to drop the tariff wall decided to come in and in consequence, Canada has had to invest in Canadian industry down to a year ago when the Payne-Aldrich tariff had been drafted, they had adopted an unimpaired attitude towards the country to which we had finally given way by modifying the tariff in Washington. When we had given in to the trade of the two systems, a treaty had been hurriedly entered into by the Laurier administration.

Andrew Fraser, who was the last speaker, spoke in an earnest, but not in the crowd, but he was the last speaker. He said that the reciprocity pact was a free trader by conviction, the protective policy launched in 1878 by the Conservative party had remained the policy of the country up to the present. As late as 1897 at the Imperial conference Sir Wilfrid had declared that Canada would benefit more and more to English channels for her trade and on the occasion of bringing down to the House the bill for the construction of the G.T.P. he had declared that the road was

The meeting concluded with "God Save the King."

To delegation from United Farmers of Alberta Mr. Borden answered "I am absolutely opposed to this agreement."

Following the presentation of the civic address, in front of the Windward hotel, Mr. Borden was escorted to the board of trade rooms where a memorial was read from the Edmonton branch of the United Farmers of Alberta by P. C. Clark the secretary.
To this memorial Mr. Borden made a brief reply.

The memorial was as follows:

The Hon. R. L. Borden:
Sir—We the Farmers of the Edmonton, Strathcona, Nampa, Clover Bar, East Clover Bar, Stony Plain, Lion Accord and Agricultural local unions of the United Farmers of Alberta respectfully desire to welcome you to this part of Alberta and we are taking this opportunity of bringing personally before you a statement of the stand we take in regard to the resolutions presented to the government at Ottawa last winter. We still unanimously endorse those resolutions.
We were extremely pleased at your remarks on the occasion of your delegated meeting at Ottawa that you had perfect confidence in us farmers and we trust that the measures which we are anxious to have made law may be received with so much favor by you that we may reciprocate the feeling.

We are aware the time you can allow us is short and we therefore propose to briefly touch on the various items here and present you with further details for your personal at your leisure, feeling that your information would be incomplete if the farmers failed to present their case.

Civilized Most Industry.
The first petition which we had the pleasure to present to Sir Wilfrid Lawson on his visit here last year was for the establishment of a civilized most industry. The Province of Alberta is entirely fitted for the production both of cattle and horse, but owing to the unsatisfactory state of the market the farmers are unable to continue in the business. We note that an immense sum was guaranteed by a railway company the other day while the very small sum asked to guarantee this industry is denied.

The Government without any engagement on the part of the farmers has appropriated enormous sums of money in disbursement through the agricultural department further more it has instructed the people to produce farm products so that the area under cultivation is very much larger than before and more produce there is very little attempt to facilitate markets for us.

Australia and New Zealand recognize the importance of the market question and not only provide the channels for the sale of their products but also establishments for meats but for all the small produce of the farmer and their export for them and do all they can to obtain a profitable market which has done much to make their country as prosperous as they are and we would urge, Sir, that you will do what you can to get us the industry.

The Tariff Grievance.
We feel that we farmers of the West have a grievance in the tariff and that the time has come when we should be granted relief from duty on the agricultural implements, tools, on seeds, cement and such other things which are so necessary to our raising. With this object in view we urged the government to help us, with the result that they have brought in the reciprocity bill, which, though it does not give us all the relief we would wish, we feel will help us to obtain better prices for our produce, and we look to the opposition to help to obtain its passage.

On the subject of markets for our grain we expressed the Government that the terminal elevators were the cause that involved most of the farmers and we had the promise of Sir Wilfrid when here that a remedy should be found and we trust that the members of the Opposition will support this which is aiming at justice to the farmers. We feel that we have a grievance in the Railway Act both with regard to the traffic rates and also with regard to the killing of animals and we sincerely trust that members of the Opposition obstructed the clause that involved most of the farmers. Within a hundred miles this hundred of cattle and horses have been killed on the railways in the last two years, and the owners can get no compensation.
As you must be aware there are hundreds of acres of uncultivated lands lying within half a mile of the railways and it is to the interest of the inhabitant that this land should be grazed and without being grazed it would be very dangerous on account of fire. The cause of so many animals being killed is the fact of useless cattle guards and the utter disregard of the life of animals by the engineers of the trains. The railway clause in question have been amended there is no doubt the railway would have little trouble and expense in stopping the major portion of these fatalities and we trust you will use your influence to have this amendment made.

The act for co-operation we are very anxious should be passed and we believe it will do much to help the farmers.
The Hudson Bay Railway we believe will be of great benefit to the farmers in disposing of their produce and we ask your support in getting this bill passed. It will be built with all speed and built and operated by the government.

Our association is not a political organization, nor do we bind ourselves to support any party. A principle of direct legislation has been adopted by the farmers as the only practical way to direct the affairs of all parliamentary government in this country, and our officials on election to office have been bound to express their approval of same.
We trust you will address without asking us to urge your party to support this principle.

We should esteem it a favor of expression of your views as leader of your party, and we trust that your visit will enable you better to grasp the present needs of the west for the measure which we advocate and which we feel sure will do much to improve the prosperity and welfare of this great Dominion.

On behalf of the said unions, (Signed)
C. BORNELL, Chairman,
FRANCIS C. BARNES, Secretary.

Replying to the address of the U.
P. A. Mr. Borden touched on the question of the railway and in reference had been made, indicating his stand on each, but deferring full explanation of the policy of the Government until his speech at the evening meeting. To two statements made in the address he took strong exception. He would like to know what the government was spending on enormous sums of money on expenditure without any dissent from the opposition. The question at the last session of parliament had voted unanimously for the abolition of the same system, and he asked, how could the government's policy, as for which there was no dissent from the opposition of the railway act by a member of the opposition, be maintained? That R. A. Lancaster was the man slain
